

AL1792 – Southwestern part of Zarqa groundwater basin

Well AL1792 “MADOUNEH NO4” is in the southwestern part of Zarqa groundwater basin, close to a production well that pumped about 5,000 cubic meters in 2009. The hydrograph shows two periods of relatively smooth trends, mostly flat, and two other trends with variable water levels. This may reflect different pumping conditions during these periods.

